- Cheating and Plagiarism: Plagiarism is defined as using and passing off as one's own ideas, data, or writings of another or presenting as one's own idea or product derived from an existing source.

Cheating is defined as obtaining information through fraud or deceit: either by the use of unauthorized notes, books, or other sources prior to or during examinations, or by using information under false pretenses. It includes premeditated cheating, which is defined as conscious, pre-planned, deliberate cheating with materials prepared in advance.

Students are expected to uphold the school's standard of conduct relating to academic honesty. Students assume full responsibility for the content and integrity shall be that a student's submitted work, examinations, reports, and projects must be that of the student's own work. Students shall be guilty of violating the honor code if they:

1. Represent the work of others as their own.
2. Use or obtain unauthorized assistance in any academic work.
3. Modify, without instructor approval, an examination, paper, record, or report for the purpose of obtaining additional credit.
4. Give unauthorized assistance to other students.
5. Misrepresent the content of submitted work.

The penalty for violating the honor code is severe. Any student violating the honor code is subject to receive a failing grade for the course and will be reported to the appropriate authority. If a student is unclear about whether a particular situation may constitute an honor code violation, the student should meet with the instructor to discuss the situation.

For this class, it is permissible to assist classmates in general discussions of computing techniques. General advice and interaction are encouraged. Each person, however, must develop his or her own solutions to the assigned projects, assignments, and tasks. In other words, students may not "work together" on graded assignments and submit similar copies of the same project. Such collaboration constitutes cheating. A student may not use or copy (by any means) another's work (or portions of it) and represent it as his/her own. If you need help on an assignment, contact your instructor.

- Public Safety: A student's safety is important in the learning process. Please report any suspicious activity to the Office of Public Safety at 216-8888 and use the red telephones in the halls and classrooms, the outdoor blue light pole phones, or the garage emergency phones located on all floors.

All students are encouraged to sign up for BRCC's emergency notification system. BRCC Connect Emergency Notification provides enhanced emergency communication through text alert, phone messages, emails, and social media updates. Students can register for BRCC Connect through the student login portal at <https://brcc.bbcportal.com>.

If necessary, please exit the building quickly, and once outside continue to a safe distance away from the building. Take your possessions with you.

- COVID-19 Reporting Protocol (For all Classes)

If a student has a COVID – 19 positive test result, possible exposure to COVID - 19, or is experiencing signs/symptoms of COVID – 19 a report should be entered into BRCC Cares using the (Request for Assistance Form). If the report is made to faculty, faculty will enter the report.

Students	This form should be utilized for students who have a concern or charge of
Faculty	dissatisfaction with a person, service or process that requires clarification,
Staff	investigation, and/or resolution.
Request for Assistance	This form should also be utilized for Students, Faculty and Staff who wish to report medical concerns related to illnesses that may impact the College community.

The report will be reviewed by the Dean of Students. A communication will be sent to the student to self-quarantine for 14 days or until they have been sign/symptom free for at least 72 hours and have a negative COVID – 19 test.

The Dean of Students will then notify any other students, who share classes with the presumptive positive student, via e-mail of the potential exposure.

Once the Dean of Students documents that 14 days have passed and that the appropriate evidence of health status has been submitted, a communication to the student and faculty will be sent indicating the student's ability to resume instruction.
